

Reclaiming that Fellowship with GOD

There's so much joy in the heart this New Year! This is because I have gotten involved in many ventures that spell GOD's love. To be able to touch people through words and music is indeed a blessing from the LORD ALMIGHTY! His HOLY SPIRIT guides and shows us the way to be filled when we are hungry. We are familiar with the soft nudges He sends our way and when that takes place, we can't help but feel wrapped in His embrace. It is to me personally an intoxicating joy to walk with Him faithfully! GOD never lets go of anyone's hand whatever the course may be and in this truth we are secured. We just need to remember never to let go.

I am lost without Jesus! To have Jesus' love is enough to sustain my piling walks on this earth. I do an inventory of my faith now and then and often get so embarrassed because I can't seem to even come close to the goal I put myself into - a goal that it should always be about Him and not about me or about anyone else! Indeed, I need to get a very big scoop of His love, pour it all on me that my whole being be soaked by His essence. It is living His truth that guides and directs my life.

We create one voice among us. I liken it to the voice of John the Baptist that was heard in the wilderness and had awakened a lot of many lulling and sleeping minds. This present time we get awakened and redirected to the right paths when we listen to GOD's Word. Yes, we navigate at our own pace but if we're not careful we get entangled in the thorns and thickets of life; we fall into the quicksand of sin – and life becomes difficult for us.

We need to take those pauses in life to be able to hear what GOD has to say or wants to share with us. At times we need to be in silence to be able to hear Him more. When we seek for His presence, when we hunger for His touch, He is there. He waits patiently for us to want that special communication with Him – not only in prayer but bringing Him in and involving Him into everything we do. To love Him first and foremost is a wonderful thing!

Ah, my soul and heart long for His touch! In my waking and sleeping moments He is the first and the last in my mind. I feel alive because of Him! I need to wrestle my way out of life's misgivings. Though difficult the roads may be I know that I will be victorious, because like David, I have the weapon to fight against life's woes. This weapon is GOD's gift to me. He trusts me to persevere and to believe that He is the Way, the Truth and the Life! He is omniscient, omnipresent and omnipotent!

The scars in life are beauty marks to behold. They tell us a story of a survivor. There will be many more challenges in life that will come and will create scars in us but we will persevere because of His love and His grace!

Won't you spend a moment or two with Him today? He is calling. Remember how much He loves you! What a wonderful opportunity to reclaim that fellowship with GOD!
